Song 3 O God of Mercy

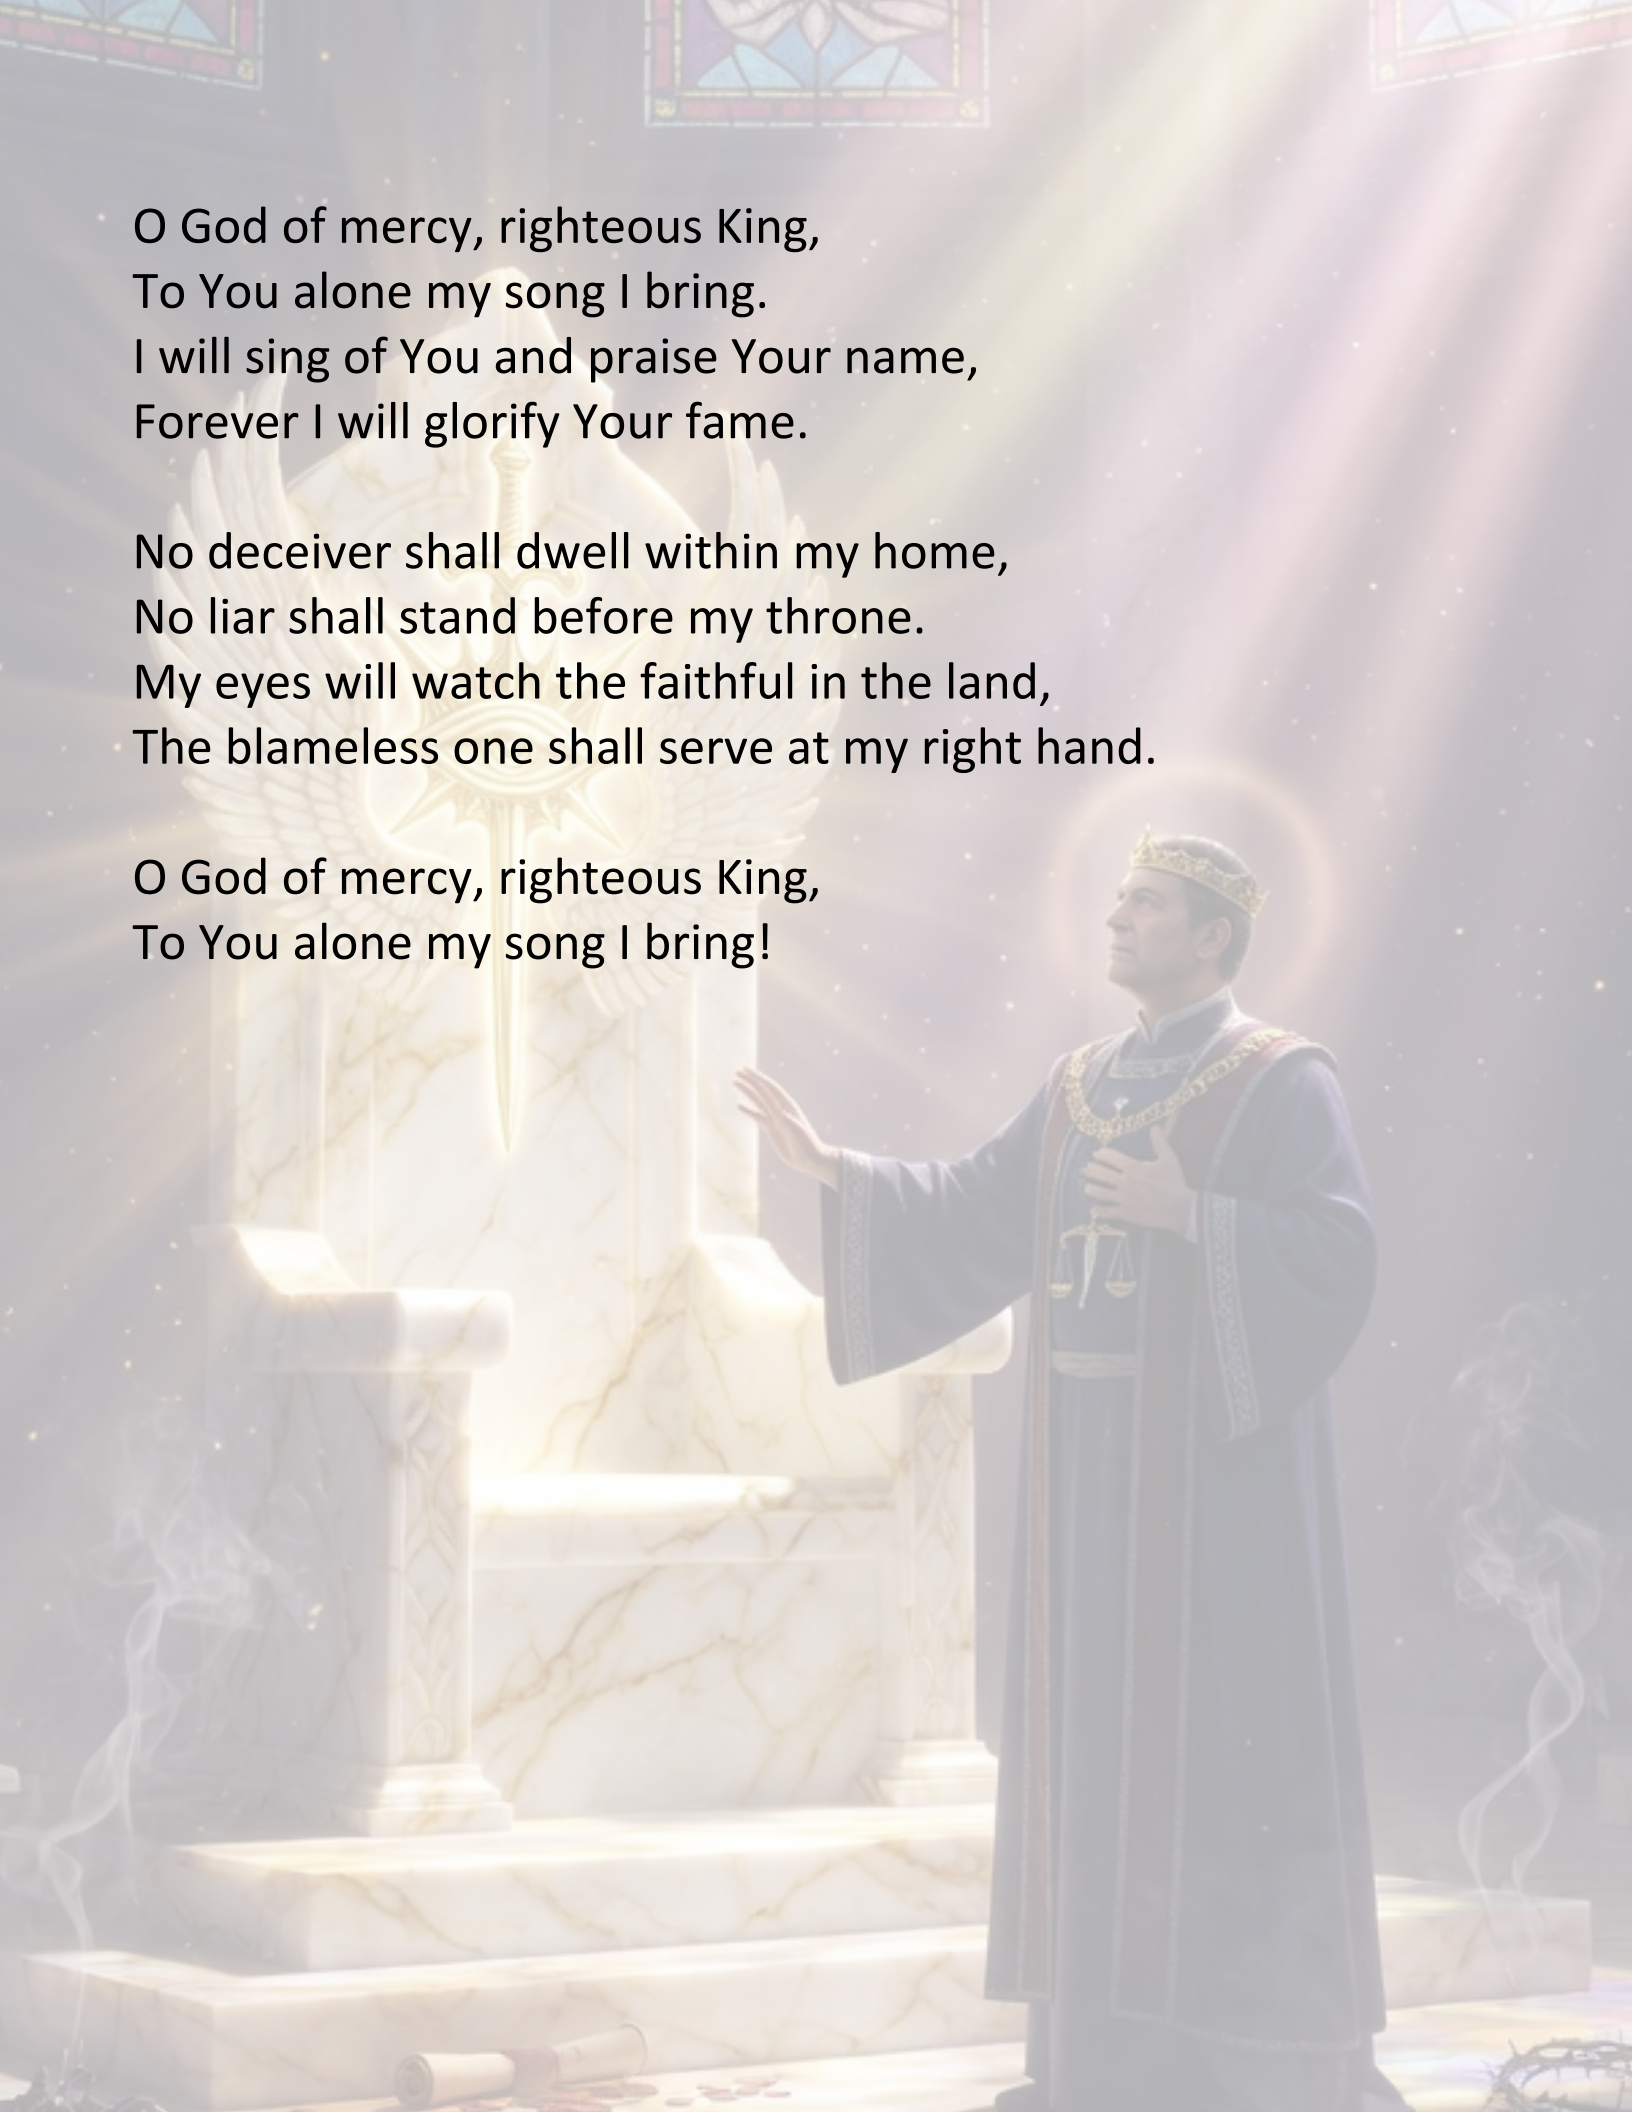
Psalm 101 – David's vow of personal holiness and integrity as king. He promises to walk in a blameless way, reject evil, and surround himself with the faithful.

O God of mercy, righteous King,
To You alone my song I bring.
I will sing of You and praise Your name,
Forever I will glorify Your fame.

I will walk with wisdom in the perfect way,
In my house I'll live upright every day.
I will set no evil thing before my eyes,
I hate the deeds of those who turn aside.

O God of mercy, righteous King,
To You alone my song I bring.
I will sing of You and praise Your name,
Forever I will glorify Your fame.

The slanderer in secret I will cut off,
The proud in heart I cannot tolerate.
The boastful tongue and haughty eyes I'll shun,
All evildoers I will end at dawn.



O God of mercy, righteous King,
To You alone my song I bring.
I will sing of You and praise Your name,
Forever I will glorify Your fame.

No deceiver shall dwell within my home,
No liar shall stand before my throne.
My eyes will watch the faithful in the land,
The blameless one shall serve at my right hand.

O God of mercy, righteous King,
To You alone my song I bring!
